Delivering Instruction for Distance and Online Learning

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=baenlxgRsjg

Hi! Are you ready to start delivering instruction for distance and online learning? In this module, you will explore these eight ideas:

1. The roles of social cognitive and teaching presence in delivering instruction for distance and online learning.
2. The difference between being a sage on the stage and a guide on the side.
3. The role of synchronous and asynchronous discussions in sustaining a community of learners.
4. Instructor teaching techniques for directing and facilitating synchronous and asynchronous discussion.
5. The importance of rubrics and rating scales and discussions.
6. Common classroom management issues in online and distance learning.
7. The role of feedback in online and distance learning. and
8. How to give effective feedback to online learners.

Ready to begin?

Transcribed by https://otter.ai