Hi! Ready to get started designing instruction for distance and online learning? Now's the perfect time to design instruction for distance and online learning. And this module is a perfect next step in your training.

There are three key things we're going to explore: first, we're going to review the differences and types of learning, facing options and learning interactions for learning online; second, increased knowledge and skills relevant to building a community of learners, designing an online course and creating micro learning units; third, learn the best strategies to use in order to accomplish specific educational activities in distance and online learning.

In addition, this module will provide valuable resources you can use as you begin to design instruction for distance and online learning. Ready to begin?
