Monitoring and Evaluating Progress for Distance and Online Learning https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=nM94e8ViwTw

Hi! Ready to get started monitoring and evaluating progress for distance and online learning. Chances are, if you are designing and delivering instruction, you are also monitoring and evaluating learner progress. In this module you will explore four key objectives. One, knowledge and skills relevant to three types of assessment: diagnostic, formative, and summative. Two, examples of assessment and their advantages and disadvantages. Three, the relevance of creating and using rubrics. And four, the most effective assessments to use for monitoring and evaluating progress for distance and online learning. Ready to begin?

Transcribed by https://otter.ai